Art Unit: 1731

1. Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The original specification does not appear to support the now claimed language which recites: "the two steps being performed in parallel".

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1731

4. Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 406051679 in view of Valyi (5,082,604) for the reasons as set forth in the previous office action.

5. Applicant's arguments filed April 21, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to the rejection of the claims under 35 USC 103 applicants argue:

There is no mention in the Aoki reference of a moveable mold to change the cavity volume in accordance with the amount of resin-bonded material that is simultaneously injected into the cavity in a molten state, as is required by the instant claimed invention.

This argument is not persuasive. In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

The Valyi reference only concerns the injection molding of a "common thermoplastic". The instant claimed invention, by contrast, requires the molding of "a resin-bonded magnet material," which is clearly not a common thermoplastic.

This argument is not persuasive. Again, in response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

There is no suggestion in either reference to combine their teachings. The Aoki reference discloses a mold for manufacturing a magnet roller, but provides no suggestion to change the cavity volume, as is required by the instant claimed invention. Although the Valyi reference teaches changing the cavity volume during the molding process of a thermoplastic to reduce shrinkage, it provides no suggestion of molding a resin-bonded magnet material using this mold configuration, as is required by the instant invention. Absent a suggestion to combine the two references, an obviousness rejection is improper.

This argument is not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, it is maintained that Valyi provides motivation for combining the references. Valyi teaches advantages obtained by utilizing the disclosed injection mold configuration. Thus, one skilled in the art would be motivated to utilize this type of mold configuration in a process such as that disclosed by the primary reference to improve the products produced thereby. The test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference; nor is it that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Rather, the test is what the combined teachings of the references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art. In re Keller 208 USPQ 871, 881; In re Sernaker 217 USPQ 1.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
